

It is the desire of every student to perform excellently in every examination. But at times, a student fails in an examination. What if it happens to you? If you find yourself failing an examination, you must sit down and review the situation.

ASK NECESSARY QUESTIONS

The question 'Why did I fail?' cannot be overlooked. You may realise that you failed due to some unforeseen circumstances like being sick during an examination. It could be because of distraction, or simply because of unpreparedness. It could also be due to your negligence.

MAKE NECESSARY CORRECTIONS

Having identified the cause of the failure, it is good to think of how it can be overcome. For example, if it is because you did not study well; think of how to create more time for your studies. However, if you studied but you did not understand the subject, you need to look for someone to teach you until you do. However, if you discover that you failed because you had friends who didn't motivate you to study, you may have to change your companions.

PICK YOURSELF UP AGAIN

Failing an examination does not mean you cannot move forward in life. It does not mean that you have reached the end of the road, so don't waste your energy or emotions on bemoaning the situation; do not accept defeat. You need to pull your emotions together and take necessary actions towards making progress.

CALL UPON GOD

When you pray to God sincerely in the name of Jesus, you acknowledge your limitations and the fact that you need divine assistance. God will send help to you in diverse ways depending on your peculiar situation. Also, Praying and reading your Bible daily changes your perspective about life and this sharpens your intellect. There is a link between a healthy relationship with God and academic excellence.

This is because the person who talks with God daily also receives divine assistance on everyday issues including academics unlike the person who depends on his or her efforts alone. The bible says in all your ways you should acknowledge Him and He will direct your paths (Proverbs 3:6)

Tags: | SCHOOL | EDUCATION | EXAMINATION | TEEN |

Related:

FIVE HABITS OF AN UNSERIOUS STUDENT

About the Author

Jadesola is a Christian missionary, counsellor and writer. She firmly supports her husband in their ministry to young people.

Adepeju J.O. November 2016 - 5 Ways to get out of examination failure. Jesse Books